RE: *Chino Basin Water Conservation District
New Peace II Agreement

Dear Ms. Schneider:

The Chino Basin Water Conservation District has been participating in the development of the New Peace II document as part of the Chino Basin Watermaster process. We are very pleased with the progress that has been made. We understand that this document has been referred by the Watermaster Board to the Pool process for their consideration. One of the pre-conditions to turning this document into a binding agreement is a thorough professional review of the technical work compiled by Watermaster in support of the document. It has been represented by Watermaster staff and legal counsel that this review will be conducted by your technical assistant, Mr. Joe Scalmanini. We have also been advised that his review has already begun in anticipation of a late July 2006 workshop. The Conservation District strongly supports this review by Mr. Scalmanini.

The Conservation District wishes to make sure that in the estimate by the Watermaster's consulting engineer, that an additional 400,000 acre feet of water needs to be mined from the Chino Basin in order to achieve and maintain hydraulic control. This should be independently verified and endorsed by Mr. Scalmanini. The original purpose of establishing the Chino Basin Judgment was to stop overdraft and balance production and replenishment to achieve a safe yield. Putting the Chino Basin into deliberate overdraft by approving mining should only be done for a very noble purpose and then only with great care and safeguards.
